Homicidal Appray—Coroner's Inquest.—
On the 8th of October—election day—Richard Taylor, aged thirty-eight, and residing at No. 530 Wilder street, was brutally beaten by a party of men at Fifth and Reed streets. He lingered on until the 5th inst., when his injuries proved fatal. Coroner Daniels beid an inquest this noon. Joseph Godman was arrested as being one of the rioters. He was present. The following is the evidence:—
Samuel McMilman sworn—Reside at No. 1340 South Sixth street; was present at this row; it occurred about 10'clock, at Fifth and Reed streets; I saw a man—who is said to be decommed and another man, whom I recognize as Thomas Marsh, being beaten; the former was down; a large crowd was about him: If it had not been for a woman who interfered the man would have been killed: I saw one man striking at Taylor: I was told he used iron knuckles.

Caroline Creager—Reside at No. 3's Owen street; knew this man Taylor; I saw a man named Worthington run bleeding into a house; and after the fight was through I saw a man with a tube in the corner of his nose stamp on Taylor when he was down; there was a large crowd around: I knew who I saw there by appearance; did not see the defendant there; when Taylor got up one of the men struck him violently in the face; they stamped on him all over his body.

Thomas Marsh, living at No. 423 Reed street orn—I was in company with Taylor when he wa esten: the row commenced at Fourth and F reets: they left, and went to Figh and Read str assisted some men who were belog beated arned around and saw the deceased standing in turned around and saw the deceased standing in the door of a bar-room; the crowd made for him: some-body reached over and hit him on the head; to save the man from injury, I got between him and the mole; he was knocked down and stamped upon, but the crowd was so dense I could not tell who they were; I was down myself; Taylor did not say anything; he made no outery; I have seen some men since who were there, but none who did the stamping; I saw a man with a silver tube in his eye. I think his name is Burns; I did not see him do any striking; he was one of the ricters.

Dr. E. B. Shapleigh testified to his having made a post mortem examination on the body of Richard Taylor at the Hospital; that death ensued from in-Sammation and mortification of the abdomeu; beides these there were many other brulses and abraons on the body.

Other witnesses were examined. All had seen a Other witnesses were examined. All had seen a man whom some knew and others believed to be Taylor knocked down and stamped upon. No names could be given; but all had seen a man having a tube inserted in one side of his nose. No evidence was given to criminate the prisoner.

Guosts .- Whether the vicinity of Third and German streets is favored with supernatural visitations, or that the mind of our informant was made whimsical by frequent tipplings, we say not; but it was affirmed that, last night, in an old dwelling, which had for months been given up to the freedom of rats and roaches, were seen

"Phantoms arising as the mists arise," It was soon mooted around that spectresverily, ghosts—were rambling in delightful antics about the ancient house, and so excited were those who gathered round, that sepulchral sounds—even most terrible and ghostly yells and groans were heard—existing, however, only in the imagination of those gathered there. For moonshine—its mellow rays piercing through chinks in the roof, and reflected on the tattered paper of a wall, which waved to and fro—was all that there was of those so-called ghosts.

RESCRICTION CONTEST .- R. M. Batturs, Republican candidate for Clerk of the Orphans' Court; William Y. Campbell, Republican candidate for Register of Wills; and Benjamin Urwiler, Republican candidate for City Commissioner, are preparing the papers necessary to contest the election of General Leech, General Ballier, and Mr. Megary. The contestants will allege such irregularities in certain precincts of the city as will, they aver, justify the Court in ex-ciuding the vote from the count. The official majority of the gentlemen whose offices will be contested was-Leech, 1198; Megary, 1317; and SHOOTING CASE .- About 6 o'clock yesterday SHOOTING CASE.—About 6 o'clock yesterday morning a boy named Daniel Gallagher, 14 years of age, was shot at Plank road and Hart creek by a lad named John Nolen. It appears that Gallagher was driving a cart at the time, when he called to Nolen, telling him that his gun was not worth anything. This exasperated Nolen, when he fired, the shot taking effect in the arm and side of Gallagher. Nolen then took Gallagher's cart and drove it to a brick yard, where he left it. He then ran off, and up to this morning had not been captured.

MORE NOMINATIONS OF GENERAL GRANT .-If mere ward nominations will secure General Grant's election to the Presidency in 1868, that illustrious soldier is certain of succeeding And obe Hatt. 43

ESCAPED FROM THE WANDERERS' HOME .-William Dobbs, about ten years of age, was placed in the "Little Wanderers' Home" on Saturday evening, and escaped from the institution on Sunday evening. He subsequently made an engagement with the captain of a wood vessel at Poplar street wharf to go with him representing that he was in straits. This him, representing that he was in straits. morning he was captured by Officer Reeder, who took him back to the Home, where he will remain until sent by the managers to his relatives in the country.

ASSAULT UPON A WOMAN .- William Corn was arrested last evening, at his residence, on the charge of kicking a woman residing in the rear of his house. It appears that there is a court directly back of his residence, and yester-day several of the children got into a quarrel. A woman residing in the court went out to quiet them, when, it is alleged. Corn com-menced to kick and otherwise ill treat her. He had a hearing before Alderman Toland, and was held in $500 ball to answer at Court.

DISORDERLY CHARACTER.-John Shirtzline living in Bower street, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon on the charge of abusing his family. He is represented to have ill-treated his wife and smashed the furniture of his house. The neighbors complained, when John was waited upon by a policeman, who took him before an Alderman, when he was re-quired to enter bail for his appearance at Court, to answer for his uproarlous conduct,

This is said to have been caused by the enactment of the present Liquor law, and the effort to break up places where viis men the effort to break up places where vile men and women have heretofore resorted.

BAD Boys .- Patrick Gallager and Thomas Dungan, who are represented to be very bad boys, amused themselves yesterday by throw-ing stones at a poor colored man who was passing along Lancaster avenue. held them for a further hearing. IMPORTANT CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS.

Washington (Oct. 15) Corres. of the Boston Post. Hon. Francis Thomas stated before the subcommittee to-day his complaints against the present State government of Maryland, contend-ing that no State government was republican in form which violated the cardinal principle of apportioning representation according to population. He said the new constitution of Mary land practically placed the government of the State in the hands of a minority of one-third o its people. Another grave question, he said, was whether a State government reorganized by the United States can be superseded by a new form of government created in defiance of the provisions of the existing constitution, and especially whether a Convention called by a Legislature in defiance of the provisions of the Constitution under which said Legislature acts, and which Convention is made up on a representative basis unknown to the Constitution of a State, is such as can legally act on behalf of the people of a State. Such a body being clearly revolutionary. the question remains to be determined by th authorities of the United States whether the forms of government guaranteed to the people of the States are to be changed according to the terms prescribed therein, by which the United States Government, the State Government, and the people of the State, are equally bound, or by revolutionary processes, in total disregard of the terms of a solemn compact. The determinations of these important questions will not only affect the validity of the pretended new Constitution of Marylend, but are essential to the stability of our Government.

One thing was clear and admitted by both parties, that Congress must be satisfied that the Government of a State is republican in form, and that it had a right to go behind the credentials of Senators and inquire into the whole subject. The obligation of the Government, under the first clause of the fourth section of the first article of the United States Constitu-tion, known as the "guarantee clause," is bind-ing upon every State in this Union, and it is therefore competent for Congress, nay, obligatory upon it, to inquire into the form of government of any State when petitioned so to do by the people. The committee heard Mr. Thomas through, when Mr. Lawrence, of Ohio (radical), good-naturedly remarked that he would like to have the present condition of his own State likewise inquired into by Congress.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Ludlow.—Robert Anderson was charged with assault and battery upon John Brady. The evidences was that the presecutor went on business to a distiliery, at which the defendant was employed, and was there set upon and beaten by a crowd of men. Some of the witnesses testified that the defendant was not in the crowd who committed the assault, and others testified that he was there, and that he was the principal in the cutrege. This left the fact that the prosecutor had been most cruelly treated without question, but raised a serious deubt as to whether the defendant partigipa'ed in it or not. Jury out.

Philip Gallager was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery upon Annie Holland. The presecutor did not appear, and the bill was submitted without evidence.

John Miller was acquitted of a charge of the larceny COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Luddence.

John Miller was acquitted of a charge of the larceny of $28. The prosecutor not appearing, the bill was submitted without evidence.
John Williams was convicted of a charge of larceny of $70, belonging to Ann Green, The evidence was that Williams and another man named George Sael der were left alone in Mrs. Green's house one day, and during the absence of Mrs. Green, her trunk was broken into and the money stolen out' and that after his arrest he admitted that Sneider, by means of a laise key, robbed the trunk, and gave him part of the money.

Mrs. Green went before Alderman Pancoast and Mrs. Green went before Alderman Pancoast and charged both parties at once with the larceny of this money; but the Alderman committed Williams only for larceny, and by mistake committed Suelder upon a charge of being drunk and disorderly; and, therefore, the District Attorney explained to Mrs. Green, when the bills in the case were sent before the Grand Jury, and the prisoner sent for, it was found that Snelder had been discharged.

James Dowling was convicted of a charge of an attempt to commit a burglary. On the morning of October 4th, about two o'clock, two men were seen picking at the door lock, and attempting to pry open the door of No. 50 South Fifth street, and the witnesses who saw them thought the defendant was one of them.

Has the Republic Been Just to the Family of Abraham Lincoln ! To the Editor of the N. Y. Tribune:-

Sir:—Every patriotic citizen has been pained and humiliated by the exhibition of injustice and ingratitude developed by the recent publications in the newspapers in regard to the sale of certain articles by Mrs. Lincoln. Republics have been so long reproached for ingratitude that it has passed into a proverb.

Few more striking illustrations of it can be found in history than the treatment of the family of the martyred President. This is the more strange from the fact that his party has continued in power since his assassination, and most of those who were his associates in public life are in Congress and in the public service, in positions to control the action of the Govern-ment. An attempt has been made to shield the Government from this reproach by the allegation that Mrs. Lincoln is not "popular," etc.

It is enough to say, in reply to all this, that she is the widow of Abraham Lincoln. She was, while she lived, his obcrished and honored wife, towards whom he ever manifested the most affectionate regard and respect. Btoken-hearted, and almost grief-distracted, is it not most ungenerous and unmanly to make her conduct now, since her terrible and crushing bereave ment, the subject of careless criticism and cruel censure? Neither the world nor posterity will, upon such grounds, excuse the American people or the American Congress for their neglect—their injustice—towards the family of the late President.

No gallant soldier ever gave his life more directly a sacrifice for his country than Lincoln. He was murdered because of his fidelity to Liberty and the Republic. By his death his family has been left without a protector and without the means of adequate support. The least that Congress should have done was to have given to his family the salary which the assassin prevented him from receiving. But it is a precedent long established in our Government to pension the widows and children of those who are killed in the service. Shall the widow and children of Abraham Lincoln be the only exceptions?

I would not have our country imitate the extravagant expenditures lavished by Europe upon her great men; but America could well take a lesson from abroad in justice, if not in gratitude, to those who render her great and distinguished service. In Europe is seen everywhere the wealth and honor lavished upon her great men. Go to Blenheim and see the magnificence which England lavished upon her Mariborough. Go toWestminster Abbey, and see how a monarchy honors its heroes and statesmen.

Go to the residence of Wellington and turn over the appropriations of Parliament, and see the millions which Great Britain proudly offered the conqueror at Waterleo. Go to Paris and see how a nation's revenues have been proudly spent to honor the memory of Napoleon. These are not examples to be followed by a plain, simple, economical republic; but is it proper or just that the widow of Lincoln should not be provided with a home in which, suitably to the position her husband occupied, she should receive the good, the intelligent, the distinguished from all the world, who love to honor the memory of the great Emancipator by respectful attentions to his family?

Is there a man in the republic who would question an appropriation which would give to Mrs. Lincoln such a home, and to her son the best education the country can afford? Congress has not done its duty in this regard.

Let it at its approaching session relieve the republic from just reproach, by voting to the family of Lincoln such sum as will educate the son and decently support the widow.
Very respectfully yours, ISAAC N. ARNOLD.

Philadelphia Politicians. Late last night a formidable delegation of Philadelphia Democratic politicians came down, for what purpose has not yet been ascertained, but it is supposed to be in reference to Government appointments in Philadelphia. This morning the party waited on Secretary McCulloch, and the Secretary accompanied them to the White House to see the President, but on their arrival at the Executive mansion, the President and General Grant were on the point of leaving to attend the review of regular troops; so the Philadelphians had to postpone their interview with the President till later in the day.

Troops Reviewed. The regular troops in and around Washington, consisting of the 12th and 44th Infantry and a squadron of the 5th Cavalry, were reviewed this morning by the President and General Grant, on the grounds south of the Executive Mansion. There was not a large attendance of citizens, owing to a mistake of the notice of the review, which erroneously stated that it would take place to-morrow. The President and General Grant were both in citizen's dress and on foot, and were accompanied by General Emory and numerous staff officers in uniform. The troops numbered about twelve hundred men, and made a very fine display in the bright, clear sunlight.

The distinguished party made the circuit of the troops, while the bands played "Hail to the Chief," and afterwards the 12th Regiment performed several [battalion manœuvres in column and the deployments, according to the new system of Upton's tactics, in presence of the President and General Grant, occupying more than an hour, after which the President and Grant walked to the White House, Grant taking the left side of the President. There was no cheering, but in response to numerous salutations, both Grant and the President acknowledged the compliment by raising their hats to the people. Blair on Grant.

There is much discussion to-day relative to the declaration last night by Montgomery Blair, in his speech at the serenade, that he was positive that Grant had expressed gratification at the result of the recent elections, and his claiming that Grant is in accord with the conservatives. Blair's friends persist in the statement, although Blair himself says he did not get it from Grant, but he feels confident that what he asserted in his speech is substantially correct. The Chase party are making capital out of this, and maintain that it is not safe for the Republicans to trust any man unless he opeuly nd emphatically declares his sympathy them, which they contend Grant has not done yet,

General Grant did not appear in uniform. The display was very fine, and quite a number of spectators were
